The two were very similar. One, the younger, was clad in dark velvet, wore lace and a sword. His face was pale with the look of the scholar. The other, walking by his side, with saddlebags over his arm thrust through the buckle of a leathern bag, wore a hunting dress, with a small cap. He looked to be turned thirty-five. His face was keen and sallow, with Roman profile, and his eyes were deep set under overhanging brows. For the rest he moved like a spare body awkwardly, slowly, with a rawboned stoop of shoulders, as one at happier ease in the woods than the street. Both bowed gravely as they came up, the face of the horseman searching the group and brightening suddenly with a flash of smile at sight of Anne.

He passed on, but the younger turned back, nothing loath for a moment of chat.

"Gossiping of the ball tomorrow, I'll swear!" he laughed. "Are the furbelows all close?"

"Tell us, Mr. Jefferson," cried Betsy Byrd. "Have you seen the new come beauties? They say Lady Dunmore is lovelier than her daughters."

"I have been away for a fortnight."

ne answered, "and cannot say. I would I could say 'Aye.' " he added humorously. "I would relieve much anxiety."

"Tis the dreadful uncertainty of our masculine lovers," Anne countered archly, "that keeps us poor maids in terror."

"Tis said," put in Paulina, "that his excellency will publish a new code for the palace etiquette. Think of it! Just like a real court! There is to be a chamberlain, and all gentlemen are to unbuckle before the portraits of the king and queen!"

The young man looked dark. "Would he kept to his court etiquette," he exclaimed. "See you the green yonder?"

All turned their gaze toward the lower end of the street where sat the new two storied cottage, with its tall cupola and clock. Generally there were to be seen burghesses, singly or in couples, passing in or out. Now the space before it was covered with knots of men, talking, gesticulating, walking from group to group. One could almost imagine an accompanying hum, like the sound of a distant bee swarm. As they gazed the knots separated and moved slowly toward one of the side doors.

"They enter the left," said Anne. "Tis not the usual sitting of the house, then. Has the governor summoned them to the council chamber? And for what?"

"For what?" repeated Jefferson wrathfully. "For the resolves, printed today in the Gazette, appointing a day of prayer and fasting because of the shutting of the port of Boston. His excellency—I had like to have said 'his majesty'—is in a fine rage. The Virginians are in no mood to bear more flogging. One can scarce say what will befall if he dissolve them!"

"There was well nigh a wall at this," "Oh," moaned Mistress Byrd, "then there will be no ball?"

Jefferson smiled, but a spot of tempestuous red burned Anne's cheek as she hung up her head. "If the governor clapped all save ten of Virginia's burghesses into the prison yonder," she said slowly, "the ten would give his lady the ball of welcome. They are Virginians."

"See!" said Jefferson. "He is coming."

At the end of the broad reach which spitted Duke of Gloucester street midway, nearly opposite them, stood the palace, brick red, greened with creepers, lifting its tall lantern above gardens laid in the Italian fashion in shapes of stars and horseshoes. Now its front sprang suddenly into action. A great chariot, very splendid, with vice regal trappings of gilt and leather, wheeled up at the steps, and two figures entered it. The vermilion liveried outriders broke into gallop, and the team of six milk white horses wound through the many arched grounds sown with silver grass and studded with mulberry and catalpa trunks, like gnarled, one legged dancers, and swept at a smart trot into Duke of Gloucester street.

His excellency Lord Dunmore, red and thick necked, with Captain Fox,

his cold featured aid, beside him, rode to the capitol.

The splendid chariot, brought from London to awe the Virginians, went at speed along a way suddenly grown a-bustle. The unwonted summons to the council chamber had gone abroad, and Williamsburg, full to the brim with rich planters from the valleys of the Potomac, the Rappahannock and the James, now at their town houses with their families for court season, were come forth to wait and to speculate upon the royal governor's wrath. The road was filling with coaches and fours bearing the nabobs and their dames and with sparkling young gentlemen passing on dancing nags. The pave of old Bruton church, wherein of a Sunday sat his excellency in his pew under the canopy, was bright with maids in satin and lace, with beans showing silken calves and powdered wigs and with students in collegiate gabardines of a sobriety by no means ever fitting their habits.

Stout old Governor Botetourt had got many a cheer in the old days as he rode by in his fine chariot. He was popular, and departed this life in the odor of liking, to receive a statue on William and Mary common. But for the new governor, John Murray, earl of Dunmore, there had come to be many a wry look. He had learned Toryism under Lord Bute, as had the king, and nature had made him a Scotch barbarian to begin with. Diplomacy to him meant the heavy hand, and charity was as far off as religion.

He rode along this afternoon scowling, abrupt and imperious, as usual, and now with an extra set to his heavy lantern jaw that led no good.

Beaming adoration was in the low courtesy that Mistress Byrd swept him as he was whirled past with unseeing eyes, and at the sight Anne's mouth took on little lines of impatience.

"Gossiping of the ball tomorrow, I'll swear!"

"I shall drive to the queen," she said, springing into the seat. "The capitol, Rashleigh!" she cried to the coachman, and waved goodby to the group.

"Anne grows a worse Whig every day!" pouted Mistress Byrd in a pet.

"La, I think the governor is monstrous fine. I am going to wear my celestial blue satin tomorrow night and a white satin petticoat!"

Many a gallant bowed low from the pave as the beauty of Williamsburg went by.

"Slife!" protested young Brooke to Francis Byrd as he petted his lace 'neath the leaden bust of Sir Walter at the Raleigh's entrance. "She would dazzle St. James. Even the Duke Barry was a stick to her! By the Lord, they should send her to London!" He prided himself upon his foreign travel.

Byrd flushed angrily. It was not to his pleasure to hear her name coupled with such. Nor did it sit well upon the tongue of this dissipated fop. He choked the word that rose to his lips, however, and turned away, looking longingly after the girl that rode by.

The chariot bearing Anne wheeled near the debtors' prison, abreast of the new capitol, whose wide wings spread out like a great letter H. Scarcely had it pulled up when the west door opened harshly and poured forth again the lowering burghesses.

They came out under the sparse trees, through which gleamed the sky steely blue as sword blades, quietly and in orderly groups, but with brows knit, fingers clinched and smoldering anger in their faces.

In the groups one might have seen many conditions. There was a sprinkling of homespun and buckskin, men from the shadow of the Blue Ridge and from the great district of West Augusta stretching far to the Mississippi, and with these rich planters from the tidewater and bay counties and the big rivers, clad in foreign fabrics, with ample wigs, swords and cocked hats or the conical head covering then coming to vogue in England. But save a few on whose faces sat a smirch of Tory smugness all wore the same deadly look of anger and concern.

Anne leaned forward and watched the crowd with tiny cores of fire in her eyes. Broken bits of conversation were wafted to her.

"I had looked to see better things of Dunmore, but 'tis all of a piece. We, burghesses of Virginia! Wagged at like so many school children, I faith, and sent home with a flea in the ear! 'Tis unbearable."

"Better things of Dunmore! A plague on him! Cry 'God save the king' and give Satan the colony!"

Such sulen growlings betokening storm and then smug ones passing, with snuff taking and derisive shrugs of shoulders:

"Henry is mad. You heard what he said at Colonel Samuel Overton's the other day. 'Independence! Our Declaration! Aid from Louis the Sixteenth! He is as mad as a March hare! Treason forsooth? 'Tis a matter for a leech! As if we had discipline, ships of war or money. I tell you, he will embroil us all with such clatter. The governor would be perfectly justified in'— So they passed on.

A snile, quizzical, disapproving, but wondrous kind, wreathed the corners of the watcher's mouth as a tall, splendid old man with aquiline nose and sharp, gray eyes came down the street leaning on the arm of a negro body servant. Threescore years and ten he had passed—one saw that by the lines in his face—and his frame was big and wide. He was gaunt, rawboned and sour faced, and plainly though richly dressed, wearing a large jewel.

The girl's eyes rested smilingly on the cocked hat, the grizzled wig, the antique coat, with its square cut lapels and shoulders rounded after a fashion of twenty years before, and then softly and lovingly on the rugged, masterful face, every whit patriarchal.

All her life she had loved this man—the old baron of Greenway Court. He had carried her at her christening. As she saw him now, coming slowly, but erect, bowing to salutations by the way, she thought again on what he must have looked in his youth before the French war, when he had strayed from a London world of fashion, with a heart sore by reason of a jilting, they said, to bury himself in the shadows of the Blue Ridge. He had dreamed of building himself a great manor house with 10,000 acres, calling it Greenway Court, and there living solitary. But a rough hunting lodge on a spur of the mountain near Winchester was all that ever came of it.

The girl watched him as he approached, stopping now and again for a word. Each pause made him look more hot and angry, and, seeing, she shook her head as if she chid some naughty child.

As he neared her, speaking with one of the more richly dressed burghesses, his bottled wrath burst out in a flood. He raised his thumb stick and shook it at the building, choking with rage.

"Meet at the Raleigh, gadzooks!" he shouted. "Whose petting is this? Patrick Henry's, aye? I thought as much! A deer stalker!" he cried, tattooing with his cane. "A good for naught bartender! Why, he used to bring me my ale when I passed Hanover Court House. A coarse, dancing, fiddling, wench chucking vagabond, I tell you! His father, the justice, is a good, sober country gentleman, but little the son takes after him. Come day, go day, God send Sunday! He must marry the tavern keeper's daughter!"

"My lord!" Anne's voice rose sweet and clear.

"And now because he mouths treason as bold as brass and because he wins a dirty damage case against some tuppenny parsons he sits in the burghesses and rides with gentlemen!"

"Lord Fairfax?" She was standing upright in the coach.

"Virginia is in a pretty case to take up any leather breeched Tom, Dick or Harry, wagging his jaw."

"Lord Fairfax?"

"About the king's business?"

"I wait for you to ride with me."

The old man half turned, choked, shook his cane again in the air; then, seeing the girl, made her as slow and courtly a bow as if he were in an assembly. Then he climbed into the chariot and sat down.

"Go and wait at the tavern, Joe," Anne said to his servant.

The baron took Anne's slender, cool hand in his huge, bony, trembling one, and they rode silently.

After awhile the fury had burned itself out in that worn frame. "'Tis naught I care for the rest of them, my dear," he said, "but my boy Washington is with their infernal treasons, and the Whigs will ruin him!"

Admiral Togo's Fleet Landed 12,000

St. Petersburg, April 16.—A rumor is current here to the effect that Vice Admiral Togo's fleet escorted a Japanese landing of troops to the westward of the Yalu river. When 12,000 men had been landed the Russian troops, which were lying concealed, suddenly attacked them, driving them back to the ships with heavy losses in men and guns.

St. Petersburg, April 16.—A telegram from Admiral Alexieff from Port Arthur to the czar says that from 9:15 o'clock Friday morning to midday the Japanese fleet in two divisions bombarded the fortress and the town alternately from the Liao Tishan promontory, firing 185 projectiles. The Russian squadron, including the battleship Pobieda, replied from the anchorage by a plunging fire. The batteries also participated. The losses on land were seven Chinese killed and five soldiers and three Chinese wounded. The Russian warships sustained no damage and there was no loss of life on them.

Even Russia Now Admits That Flagship Was Torpedoed.

St. Petersburg, April 16.—Unofficial dispatches from Port Arthur repeat that it was the Bezstrashni and not the Strashni as reported in the official dispatches, which became separated from the fleet and was sunk by Japanese destroyers.

Information which has slowly reached St. Petersburg has modified the opinion at first prevailing concerning the original cause of the destruction of the battleship Petropavlovsk. There is gradually developing a disposition to admit the possibility that after all, Japanese torpedo boats may have dropped mines at the entrance to Port Arthur harbor. An officer remarked: "It would be far better if the ship was actually blown up by the enemy's mine instead of by a Russian mine. The latter would be the result of inexcusable carelessness and would properly arouse the czar's anger. The former, while it would speak volumes for Jap craftiness, could not be readily avoided. On dark nights it would be almost impossible for the searchlights of the batteries to pick up the torpedo boats, however carefully manipulated."

Even should it be finally established that a Japanese mine destroyed the Petropavlovsk, it will not affect the general appreciation of Vice Admiral Makaroff's high qualities. His policy in putting out in pursuit of an inferior Japanese fleet has been thoroughly ap-

Most Important

In buying food-products, several things are to be thought of—i. e., Economy, Results, Easy Handling, Reliability, but the most important is Health.

Health means everything. In buying clothes, shoes, hats, furniture, etc., if the buyer is deceived and gets an imitation the only harm is loss of money. In buying food-products, if imitations are supplied, there is not only a loss of money, but perhaps an injury to health—which is beyond price.

Remember these facts when buying baking powder.

proved in St. Petersburg, where it is understood that such action would have an excellent effect on the morale of the Russian fleet.

As the admiral's instructions were to conserve his fleet, it is pointed out that it was his duty to return directly to the harbor on the appearance of a superior force. It could hardly be expected that the admiral would look out for mines when he had no reason to believe that they had been laid, especially as only a few hours before he had safely steamed over the spot where the Petropavlovsk was sunk.

Korean Imperial Home Destroyed.

Seoul, April 16.—Fire has destroyed the imperial palace at Seoul. With the exception of the Kuseiken building, which is in the European style, all the other palace buildings were consumed. The emperor took refuge in the library of the Kuseiken building. It is believed that the fire originated in the heating apparatus of the Kansei palace, which was undergoing repairs.

China's Armed Force.

St. Petersburg, April 16.—A Chinese officer who has just arrived here says that the Chinese northern army consists of 100,000 men perfectly equipped and commanded by numerous officers, among whom are 130 disguised Japanese. Half of the troops are along the Manchurian frontier and the other half in the province Pechili.

First Report Corrected.

St. Petersburg, April 16.—An official correction has been issued, according to which it was the torpedo boat destroyer Itashini and not the Bezstrashni which was sunk on Wednesday by Japanese torpedo boat destroyers off Port Arthur.

Pension Department Explains Provi-

Washington, April 16.—To make clear the actual effect of provisions of the recent age pension order of Commissioner Ware, about which a large number of inquiries are making, the following official statement is made: "There appears to be an impression among many of the old soldiers that allowances of pension under the age order of the commissioner of pensions are in addition to pensions allowed heretofore. This is an erroneous idea of the order. The law prohibits the payment of more than one pension to a person for the same period, and the effect of the order on those having a pension already only will be to increase such pension up to the age limit if the pension already drawn is below that amount."

Ohio Local Option Law.

Columbus, Ohio, April 16.—The legislature has agreed upon a compromise on the Brannock district local option bill for municipalities, and it will be signed by the governor, making it a law. The bill as it now stands provides for local option elections by districts in municipalities on petition of 40 per cent of the electors, such districts to contain not less than 300 nor more than 2,000 electors. Business sections are to be exempt from the provisions of the measure.

Book Agent Escapes Jail.

Venice, Ill., April 16.—Judd B. Hayne, a book agent, arrested on the charge of forgery, escaped from jail after knocking Jailer Selbert unconscious with a hammer. Selbert is believed to be fatally injured. Hayne took the keys from the jailor and unlocked the cell of two negroes, telling them to escape. They refused to go. Hayne locked up the jail and fled.

THE republican city ticket is one that commends itself to all good citizens. It is first class all the way through. Elect this ticket and the affairs of the city will be properly administered.

WITH issue of March 19 the proprietors of the Seymour (Ind.) Republican closed the eighth year of their ownership of the paper, the longest term of continuous management the paper has had since it was established. The fact that the daily has increased from 475 circulation to 700, and the weekly from 850 to 1,700 under the present management, argues that it will not be changed soon.—American Press

THE sublime complacency with which the reorganizers assure us that their candidate for the presidency voted for one thing while he believed directly the opposite is incredible. The significant thing about it is not so much that the New York judge did this, for thousands and tens of thousands do the same at every election, but it is a fact with a world of meaning in it, when such a man is put forward as an exemplar and as a candidate for the highest office in the land.

General Grosvenor got at the pith of the Democratic demand for tariff revision the other day when he faced the democratic side of the house and said: "There would be no ten of you that would name the same item, no five of you that would name within 50 per cent of it, and none of you who will agree to all the items of the tariff." This is a vital point that the tariff reformers don't stop to think about. Most of them, if not all of them, are far more concerned about the manufacture of partisan capital than in actual tariff revision. But the voter will understand that when it comes down to the actual business of revising the tariff, congress must deal with specific things. To do this intelligently requires far more information than is to be found in all tirades of all the loud.

WILL OBEY THE LAW

Two years ago the business interests of Seymour were declining. There was an exodus of population, and dwelling houses were being vacated by the score. Property values went down until there was scarcely a market. Bankruptcy and ruin to many of her business men seemed inevitable. For months the progressive people sought to relieve the situation by the one expedient of furnishing employment for the surplus energy of the city. Industrial enterprises were sought by our citizens but failure after failure followed these efforts, and many of the strongest and more ardent champions of the public cause relaxed effort and the field was practically abandoned, and left to drift with the tides of adversity.

Such was the gloomy aspect of affairs in this city when Dr. Graessle discovered the fact that the Greemann brothers, large and wealthy manufacturers at Batesville, were disposed to locate a plant in some other city. He reported this condition to the city authorities with the result that a clear understanding was brought about and a considerable plant was erected here, and has been in constant operation ever since.

In doing this he was moved and guided by one motive only—the one that was uppermost in everybody's mind and heart. He had for object the betterment of the commercial situation; the employment of labor, and the growth of the city in population, in financial strength and public credit. There were no dissenters.

Since the day this enterprise became a certainty there has been an easier feeling, a stimulated credit, more active real estate market, and a more hopeful commercial tone all around today there are more people employed in factories in Seymour than ever before, and those in existence are on the threshold of larger fields, and amplified markets.

Surely there is nothing in this situation to condemn Dr. Graessle, to discredit him, nor dislodge him in the esteem and gratitude of the public.

Concordant with this movement Dr. Graessle embarked in a commercial enterprise which has developed financial strength and confidence more rapidly than any previous industry launched in this city. This industry gives constant employment to thirty-five people, and sustains a large number of families who have their homes here, and the number so employed is growing larger all the time.

Surely there is nothing in this situation to command the disrespect or overthrow the confidence of the public in this man and fellow citizen.

Political opponents have sought to discredit his standing by publishing the remarkable statement that if elected he will forthwith deed to the Greemann Company the ground on which its factory stands.

Dr. Graessle is a law abiding citizen. He has neither power nor inclination to go beyond the law in anything concerning his private, nor the public business. As mayor of Seymour he would be lodged with no power whatever to deed any lands belonging to the city to anybody or to any corporation, nor could any power, nor ties of friendship induce him to betray a single public trust. The duties of the mayor are purely executive. He is charged with the responsibility of enforcing the laws. To ascribe to him motives outside of his legal duties is to suggest a performance of which Dr. Graessle is incapable, and this the public, on reflection will understand and appreciate.

There is need for a broad minded, tactful, aggressive and progressive man at the head of the city government and in calling Dr. Graessle into this situation the city will have rendered a great service to the laborer, to the business man, to the tradesman, to the professions and to society in general.

WHAT a puff Wesner gave himself in the editorial paragraphs he contributed to the Democrat yesterday.

AFTER reading Wesner's own editorials about himself in yesterday's Democrat we are prompted to remark again that it would be a great mistake to elect him mayor.

How it must hurt the conscience of John Congdon to be a candidate for city judge when only a few weeks ago he got up a petition to have the office abolished on the ground that it was useless.

THE Hearst delegates to the number of about one hundred bolted the New Jersey Democratic convention at Trenton and elected a contesting delegation to the national convention. The regular convention elected an un instructed delegation.

WESNER contributed some editorial paragraphs to the Democrat yesterday in which he praised himself lavishly. That he did write these paragraphs about himself he can not deny and neither will the publishers of the Democrat deny that Wesner was the author of them.

Political Gossip.

Judge Oscar H. Montgomery, Seymour, has formally announced as a candidate for judge of the supreme court. He is an able jurist and stands high as a lawyer and citizen. He has always been a working republican and has served through two campaigns on the republican state central committee. He is well known in Washington county and ought to have the support of our people as he is almost one of us.—Salem Leader.

LOG-ROLLING AT COLUMBUS.

Large Crowd of Modern Woodmen Expected in May.

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 15.—The program for the annual State log-rolling of the Modern Woodmen, to be held in Columbus the second week in May, is nearly completed. The delegates from 800 lodges in the State are expected to arrive Wednesday afternoon, and an informal reception will be given in their honor in the city hall. At night they will be in an executive business session, at which some of the State and national officers will make addresses. Thursday morning will be turned over to the drill teams, and there will be competitive drills for prizes of $100, $50 and $25.

Indianapolis has promised to send twelve drill teams and three bands. Thursday afternoon there will be another business meeting and a street parade. The meeting will close Thursday night with a display of fireworks.

It is expected that from 1,000 to 1,200 uniformed members of the order will be here and from 6,000 to 7,000 uniformed wood choppers are expected.

Says Russia Will Win.

In his lecture on the Russo-Japanese war in the assembly room at the Claypool at Indianapolis Thursday night, John L. Griffiths predicted the ultimate success of Russia. He said he believed the victory of Japan would halt the progress of the world. Japan is essentially Asiatic, he said, and would probably combine with China if successful. He said Russia was in a sense christian, and the progress of the world would be best promoted by its success.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

"I have been subject to sciatic rheumatism for years," says E. H. Waldron, of Wilton Junction, Iowa. "My joints were stiff and gave me much pain and discomfort. My joints would crack when I straightened up. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have been thoroughly cured. Have not had a pain or ache from the old trouble for many months. It is certainly a most wonderful liniment." For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Delineator for May.

In addition to an elaborate portrayal of current fashions and other matter of special interest to women, The Delineator for May contains literary and artistic features of the highest excellence. In fiction, there are two short stories: His Finance, by Virginia Woodward Cloud, a delightful tale of a girl and her adventures; and The Battle of the Strong, by John H. Whitson, a college story. The story of Catherine Sevier, conspicuous in the early history of Tennessee, is the first of a series on Great Women of Pioneer Times. In Around the World in Eighty Days the reader is taken into a field of greatest interest—Japan and Korea. Lillie Hamilton French's remarks on Mothers and Marriageable Sons will be greatly enjoyed, and Dr. Murray's instructions in regard to the care of the mouth and teeth will be found helpful to everyone. In addition there are engaging stories and pastimes for the little ones, and timely information for almost every department of the home.

Size of Manchuria.

The National Geographic Magazine of Washington, D. C. says that Manchuria, that Russia wants for keeps, corresponds in latitude to Manitoba, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, and Nebraska. Its area of 362,310 square miles is only 10,000 square miles less than the combined area of these great grain states. Its two and one-half times greater than California, and is as big as Texas, Alabama, and Louisiana combined. In the northern part of the province are thousands of square miles of rich wheat land entirely untouched. Manchuria has a possible wheat area as great as that of the United States.

Indiana Coal Miners and Operators Get Together At Last.

THE LAST YEAR'S SCALE

The basis of Settlement, the Miners Accepting the Indianapolis Reduction.

Important Action Concludes Long Drawn Out Conference at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 16.—At the joint session of the Indiana coal operators and miners, held last night, the long-delayed agreement was reached, and the danger of a general strike in the Indiana field which has threatened for some weeks was averted. The basis of settlement of the differences between miners and operators was an agreement reaffirming the last year's scale, the miners accepting the 5.55 reduction recommended by the Indianapolis conference.

The miners in convention adopted resolutions denouncing Eugene Debs for his article attacking Mitchell's good faith with the miners in getting them to accept a reduction in wages.

A MASTODON'S BONES

Uncovered by the Recent Freshet Near Orleans.

Orleans, Ind., April 16.—After the waters of the recent flood had receded, Marion Mathers, who lives six miles southwest of this place, was out on his farm, investigating some of the drain ditches. In one place, where the water had washed to a great extent, he noticed some white bones sticking out of the side of the ditch. He dug some of them out and brought them to Orleans, where on account of their shape and size, they are believed to be the bones of a mastodon. They are not in a very good state of preservation, but it is believed that most of the skeleton can be found. In one place, Mr. Mathers says, there is a part of a tusk protruding which measures four inches in diameter. He also says there are several large bones which he did not attempt to dig out of the earth.

Assault Ended in Murder.

Alexandria, Ind., April 16.—Alfred J. Norton, who was sandbagged last Saturday night after closing his place of business and starting homeward, died without regaining consciousness, and the charge now resting against his unknown assailants is that of murder. The authorities have offered a reward of $100 for the conviction of his assailants, and have arrested a number of colored men on suspicion, but nothing definite is known as to the perpetrators of the crime. Mr. Norton was robbed of $40 or $50. He was fifty-nine years old and leaves a wife and five children.

Cracksmen at Milton.

Milton, Ind., April 16.—The post-office at this place and W. A. Bragg's grocery house were visited by burglars. At the postoffice only 75 cents in pennies were secured, no stamps nor mail being disturbed. A revolver was taken from the drawer where it was usually kept. Entrance into the postoffice was effected by prying open a window. The safe in Bragg's grocery was forced with nitroglycerin and $50 was taken, of which $20 was in dimes and nickels.

A Determined Woman.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 16.—Mrs. Lillie Travis of New Haven, this county, broke up a poker game in a saloon in that village. Her husband was playing in the game. He is the man who recently claims to have lost $800 in a Fort Wayne gambling house, and is now suing in the courts to recover the money. Mrs. Travis has filed affidavit against ten people for violation of the saloon and gambling laws.

May Result in Damage Suit.

Elwood, Ind., April 16.—Mrs. Dennis Connell, the woman who was injured by a natural gas explosion in this city a few weeks ago, is dead at St. Elizabeth's hospital, Lafayette. The explosion was caused by escaping gas from a dry meter placed inside the house by the gas company, and a damage suit may follow the death of the injured woman. She leaves a husband and four little children.

Students Steal Minerva.

Muncie, Ind., April 16.—Some years ago a high school graduating class presented a statue of Minerva to the school, and yesterday it was missing from its accustomed place. Recently students entered the building after nightfall and painted the statue red. The principal is investigating with a view of identifying the students responsible for the disappearance.

Workman's Perilous Situation.

Muncie, Ind., April 16.—Charles Aker, employed at the Muncie pulp mills, fell into a vat containing boiling acid and lime. He caught the edge of the vat with his hands, saving his head and body from the fluid, but his legs from the knees down were so badly burned that amputation may be necessary.

The Medicine That Cures.

RENO, OKLA., May 11, 1903.

Wine of Cardui absolutely does cure sick women. I consider it the most valuable medicine, and it is the only a few bottles to effect a complete and lasting cure. I especially recommend it for uterine or ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, painful, profuse and scanty menstruation and it is a most valuable adjunct to use during the gestative period, insuring easy childbirth and speedy recovery.

It should have a place in every home as it is a true friend to wife, mother and maiden and I most heartily recommend it.

Dr. E. Buchanan

WALTER AND LECTURER.

Dr. Mrs. Buchanan is an authority on the science of medicine and certainly appreciates the great work physicians are doing for the relief of sufferers. But this does not deter her from expressing her views in praise of Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. Buchanan's high intelligence and long and successful experience render her advice of great value. Wine of Cardui regulates menstruation, cures bearing-down pains and relieves suffering women of the pain and misery to which their sex is heir. You have the word of Dr. Buchanan and thousands of other eminent women that Wine of Cardui will completely cure you.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

A Junior Class Party.

On the evening of April fifteenth, Miss Blanche Barlick gave a Junior Class party at her home on North Ewing street. Games were played until the two contests. Miss Edna Doane won the guessing and Miss Ora Emery the sewing contest. The prizes were two beautiful roses. The rooms were tastefully decorated in the 1905 class colors—green and white. The class colors were further carried out in the refreshments. At a late hour all left wishing that every class meeting might be as delightful as this one.

Deaths at Soldiers' Home.

Richard M. Smock, commandant of the State Soldiers' Home at Lafayette reports more deaths in the home during March than for any month since the institution was established. Eleven of the veterans died during the month and the hospital at present has seventy-two patients. The number of people cared for by the home is 618. Applications for new members are constantly coming in and about twenty per month are admitted. The average of deaths during the last year has been five a month.

AFTER ENGLISH HOTEL.

L. C. Wallick and Brother May Locate in Indianapolis.

The papers have it that Lou C. Wallick, formerly proprietor of the New Lynn hotel, of this city, and his brother are negotiating for the Hotel English at Indianapolis. They have had charge of the Jefferson Hotel at Toledo the past few years and it is said made a decided success of it. In discussing the report the Indianapolis news says: "Ernest Tripp, who owns the majority of the stock in Hotel English, says that Wallick Brothers, of Toledo, have not made any offer for the hotel. He said that two or three different interests have been making inquiries. He said the hotel had an excellent business and was not for sale. Of course, he said, men would sell almost anything if a big enough price were offered. Mr. Tripp said he received a letter from Hook & Co., of Chicago, hotel brokers, but received no inquiry from Wallick Brothers directly. A Toledo story says that Wallick Brothers have sold the Hotel Jefferson in that city and will come to Indianapolis to close up a deal by which they will come into possession of English's hotel.

Large Corn Acreage.

The corn acreage in Indiana will be much larger this year than last. The spring has been so peculiar that very little oats has been sown and most of the ground in the state that heretofore has been used for that purpose will be planted in corn. In addition, much of the wheat ground is to be plowed up and planted in corn. With a favorable season the state statistician thinks there will be a great corn crop gathered in Indiana next fall.

Hubs for Russia.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that Science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and give the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

[An Interesting Letter Concerning Pe-ru-na.]

MISS DELLA JANVEAU

Miss Della Janveau, Globe Hotel, Ottawa, Ont., is from one of the oldest and best known French Canadian families in Canada. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, she says:

"Last spring my blood seemed clogged up, my digestion poor, my head ached and I felt languid and tired all the time. My physician prescribed for me, but a friend advised me to try Peruna. I tried it and am pleased to state that I found it a wonderful cleanser and purifier of the system. In three weeks I was like a new woman, my appetite had increased, I felt buoyant, light and happy and without an ache or pain. Peruna is a reliable family medicine."

Adia Brittain, of Sekitan, O., writes: "If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. CARELESSNESS HINTED

In Their Eagerness to Make Quick Time Did Gunners Neglect Proper Precautions?

Target Practice Will Go On Just the Same, Notwithstanding Evident Danger.

Washington, April 16.—Searching investigation will be made by the court of inquiry on the Missouri disaster and regarding the statement that four charges of ammunition were in the handling room of the after turret of the Missouri ready to be hoisted to the turret at the time the explosion occurred. This fact has been reported BATTLESHIP MISSOURI.

In the newspaper dispatches from Pensacola and seems to be borne out by the statement of a number of officers that it has been thought necessary in order to fire rapidly as our ships have been firing, to keep several charges in the target room, even though it is not in accordance with the regulations, that no time may be lost in bringing the charges from the magazine. If such be the case it can be stated that this condition of affairs will be promptly remedied. It was pointed out at the navy department by an official that the custom prevailed on board the other ships of the navy of keeping several extra charges in the handling room during target practice, and it was said if this were so no one on the Missouri could be held responsible. "It is the system and not the personnel which would be at fault," said this official. Notwithstanding the mystery which still surrounds the cause of the Missouri accident, the announcement is made at the navy department that there will be no suspension of target practice at Pensacola, but that the other ships which have not yet fired will go on the range at the regular time.

THE STATE OF TRADE

Bradstreet Gives a Review of the Situation.

New York, April 16.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Trade is still irregular, with unseasonably cool weather the chief but not the only drawback. In some sections, notably the South and portions of the East and West, brighter weather has helped trade and incidentally crop preparation, but the poor winter wheat crop outlook in the Ohio valley, very cool weather in the lake regions, and high water or frosts in the western part of the cotton belt, have affected business or retarded spring planting. Foreign trade returns have seemed to favor the manufacturing rather than the agricultural interests.

Most measures of trade point to smaller volume of business than a year ago, but it is to be noted that while a slight decrease may be shown in gross railway earnings for March, the first quarter's earnings will fall little behind a year ago, showing that in volume of products moved there is little difference from a year ago and that the railroads have so far this year almost held their own.

LODGE STEMMED THE TIDE

How Harmony Was Restored in Massachusetts Convention.

Boston, April 16.—Canadian reciprocity and Eugene Foss, its foremost champion in Massachusetts, were decisively defeated in the Republican state convention which elected four delegates at large to the national convention and endorsed Roosevelt for president. Mr. Foss, who before the convention had announced his intention of offering a reciprocity resolution and of contesting as a candidate for delegate at large on this issue, carried out his plan. His resolution was overwhelmingly voted down, and he was rejected as a delegate by a vote of 1,131 to 178.

At a time when to all appearances a considerable sentiment in the convention was with Mr. Foss, Senator Lodge took the platform and by an eloquent address stemmed the tide and carried the delegates with him.

Calling Them to Time.

Washington, April 16.—The non-attendance of Republican members of the house during what are thought to be the closing days of the session is causing some vexation to the managers of that body. A circular was mailed last night to the Republican membership signed by Representative Tawney, the Republican "whip," and issued at the request of Speaker Cannon, calling attention to the uncertainty of language to the necessity of attending to business. The leaders predict that April 28 will be the day of adjournment, and they are bending every effort to carry out this plan.

BRIEF DISPATCHES

The censorship at St. Petersburg is being tightened. War experts declare Japanese are using submarine boats against the enemy.

Russians will shoot at spies all correspondents caught using the wireless telegraph. Unofficial figures forecast an increase, instead of a decrease, in the acreage of spring wheat.

Fire in the works of the St. Louis Smelting and Refining company damaged $250,000 worth of property.

Business failures in the U. S. for the week number 198, against 201 last week and 190 in the like week in 1933.

The Palace of the Korean Emperor was destroyed by fire and the Emperor forced to seek safety in flight.

There are now only two undamaged battleships—the Perseus and the Sevastopol—in the harbor at Port Arthur.

Best Cough Medicine for Children

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is also a certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

A tonic for the aged and infirm. Gives strength and vital force to every part of the body. A spring tonic that makes sick people well. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, 35 cents, tea or tablet. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless poor to produce relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have sample bottle sent free by mail, also a bottle telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Inc., 1001 Broadway, New York, N. Y. The regular size and the smaller sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Don't make any mistake, remember the name, Swamp Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Birmingham, N. Y., on every bottle.

MRS. CARRIE P. HANNAFORD.

New Life and Strength Came to Her.

A Massachusetts woman, Mrs. CARRIE P. HANNAFORD, of No. 69 Hale St., Beverly, Mass., who is well known socially there, being Treasurer of the Order of the EASTERN STAR, wrote her experience as follows:

"Your 'Favorite Prescription' is, without a doubt, the finest remedy on the market to-day, for female difficulties. I suffered for four years with pains every period, and I dreaded the approach of the time as I knew it meant two or three days' misery. I tried several different widely-advertised remedies, and found that she had been cured through the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, so I purchased a package. I found that the real value of your medicine was greater even than my expectations, and the next month I had hardly any pains. The following month had none at all, and found that my general health was much better and new life and strength had come to me.

"These are the actual facts, and I feel that it is due you that I should write you.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. CARRIE P. HANNAFORD,

To Hon. R. V. Pierce, M. D.

Young women or matrons should not allow themselves to look sallow and wrinkled because of those pains and weaknesses which become chronic and are the result of colds, tight lacing, and imprudent care of the womanly system. Many a woman would look beautiful, have a healthy color and bright eyes if it were not for those drains on her strength and those weaknesses which come all too frequently and make her life miserable. There is a ready-to-use Prescription, used a great many years by Dr. R. V.

Pierce in his large practice as a Specialist in women's diseases, which is not like the many "patent medicines" on the market, as it contains neither alcohol nor any narcotic. It is purely vegetable.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

$500 Reward FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Womb which they can not cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Their financial responsibility is well known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States, with most of whom they have done business for over a third of a century. From this fact it will readily be seen how utterly foolish it would be for them to make the above unprecedented and remarkable offer if they were not basing their offer on curative means having an unparalleled record. No other medicine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription could possibly "win out," as the saying goes, on such a proposition. But they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments. This wonderful remedy, therefore, stands absolutely alone as the only one possessed of such remarkable curative properties as would warrant its makers in publishing such a marvelous offer as is above made in the utmost good faith.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION,

665 Main Street, BUFFALO, N. Y.

"I want to tell you of the great improvement in my health since taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" says Mrs. H. S. Jones, of Forest, N. C. "When I began its use I was a physical wreck and had despaired of ever having good health again. Could not sit up all day. I noted a great improvement before the first bottle was used. Was suffering with almost every pain that a woman is subject to: had inflammation of ovaries, painful and suppressed periods, and other symptoms of female disease. After taking six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' I felt like a new person. Can ride horseback and take all kinds of exercise and not feel tired."
